Opportunities for ALL

YOUR Liberal Government under Mackenzie King has taken practical steps to see that every Canadian after the war shall have a wide-open chance to make a real success of his life. It can be done by giving everybody the opportunity to get ahead faster and go further.

Isn't that what you want — a chance to make your own way in your own way?

Here are definite, practical steps which the Liberal Government has taken (not just talked about, but taken) to make this Canada a better place to work in and bring up your children.

You will have to decide whether you want the men who devised these measures to carry them through, or whether you wish to entrust your own and your family's future to others.

1 Reconstruction

Plans for jobs for 500,000 more workers than in 1939; and 60,000 more each year as the population grows. Every kind of enterprise will be encouraged. The Liberal Government has already set up the machinery: the Department of Reconstruction.

2 Foreign Trade

Liberal objective: Sixty percent increase in value over Canada's pre-war export trade. This means thousands of jobs, and is based on the number of jobs created by Canada's normal export trade.

3 Credit for Enterprise

The Liberal Government set up the Industrial Development Bank to provide money at low interest for long terms to help enterprising Canadians to develop new business. Another step towards creating full employment.

4 Exports Encouraged

War-torn countries will want to buy tremendous quantities of Canadian goods. To facilitate this, the Liberal Government has set up the Export Credit Insurance Act to do two things: (1) to insure Canadian exporters against loss, and (2) to make loans to foreign governments under contract to Canadian exporters.

5 Farm Improvement Loans

Your Liberal Government has made low interest loans available to farmers to finance their work and make improvements.

6 Guaranteed Markets

To provide farmers with a better wartime income, the Liberal Government made contracts for definite quantities of important products at agreed prices—mostly bacon, eggs, cheese and beef. These contracts have worked out so well the Liberal Government extended many for longer periods.

7 Family Allowances

From July next, Family Allowances are to be paid monthly to assist parents in raising their children—$250,000,000 a year direct spending power in the hands of people who need it most.

8 New Homes for Canadians

The Liberal Government's new $400,000,000 National Housing Act enables hundreds of thousands of Canadians to own their own homes. In the first year after Germany's defeat, at least 50,000 dwellings will be built.

9 Returning Veterans

Gratuities, benefits and grants of $750,000,000 will enable men and women of the Armed Services to apply their energies in building the prosperous Canada for which your Liberal Government has been planning.

10 Floor Prices under Fish and Farm Products

To protect farmers and fishermen and to maintain prices, the Liberal Government has provided floor prices under their products. Prosperous farmers and fishermen make a prosperous Canada.

11 Better Labour Conditions

In co-operation with organized labour, the Liberal Government has confirmed collective bargaining, provided unemployment insurance, appointed labour representatives on government boards. (More than 600,000 workers, because of the Liberal Government's attitude towards labour and the labour movement, now get annual vacations with pay.)

12 Reduction in Taxation

The Liberal Government will gradually reduce taxation when the European war is over to free spending power and to give Canadians every opportunity for prosperity, employment and freedom.

What you have done in war—you can do in peace. You can do your part by supporting the Liberal Candidate in your constituency.

A CABLE MESSAGE

With the news of the surrender of Germany's Armed Forces many of our citizens may in error conclude that the need for backing our government by means of the Eighth Victory Loan Campaign is over. It would be exceedingly unfortunate if such an impression should prevail. Certainly fighting policing enemy countries, caring for our wounded and former prisoners of war and feeding starving millions in allied countries will require immense sums of money and for happier uses such as bringing our boys home. With transportation numbering out pay and rehabilitation costs equally immense sums will be needed over the next six months. There is still much to be done. Let's finish the job now as duty demands by heavily over subscribing the Eighth Victory Loan.

BASSANO NEWS

Mr. Henry Pielt and family were visitors to Bassano and Gen over the V. E. Holidays.

Occupied to capacity was the Knox Presbyterian Church with attendants on V.E. in a thanksgiving service. Rev. H.H. Lockhart spoke beseeching words to the congregation, to conduct our life to be worthy of the Victory.

An unusual heavy dust storm swept over central Alberta last Saturday night, May 5th. It carried an unbearable cloud of dust along. Your Editor and family were on the way home from Brooks and came to the last crossroad west of town where the car stopped because of dust accumulating in the carburetor. We started to walk but it was almost impossible.

With the fighting in Europe at an end, our efforts are still needed. Blood Donor Clinics will be continued, and their continuance is definitely associated with your voluntary efforts of giving your blood. The Red Cross hopes that instead of seeing a decrease in donations there will be an increase so that there will be an adequate supply to be used in our Military Hospitals at any time, as this material is a vital factor in restoring our wounded men's health when they are forced to undergo an operation.

VICTORY LOAN CABOONS

A conductor's van decorated with flags, bunting and Victory Loan posters and slogans, serves as a mobile headquarters for the Canadian Pacific Railway employees' Eighth Victory loan committee of which R.E. Taylor, superintendent, is the chairman. The idea of having decorated caboons as divisional Victory Loan headquarters, originate from the Medicine Hat division three years back and is now in general practice on the railway's Alberta district. Committees maintain 24-hour duty in the caboons, signing up applications for mailroaders who work around the clock in three shifts.

PASSING

PERMANENT
If You Must Drink

Says the Lig of the Good Ship Grace: "If you were a married man who absolutely must drink, start a saloon in your own home. Be the only customer, and you won't have to buy a license. Give your wife two dollars to buy a gallon of whiskey. Remember there are 64 glasses in a gallon. Buy your drinks from your wife. When the first gallon is gone she will have eight dollars to deposit in the bank and two to start business again. If you should live ten years, continue to buy booze from her and then die with snakes in your shoes. She will have enough money to bury you respectably, bring up your children, buy a house and lot, marry a decent man and forget all about you."

"A Debt Of Gratitude"

A corporal, not a church member, wrote to a minister in his home town in the South, saying: "The success of our New Georgia campaign depended upon the co-operation we received from the natives, given wholeheartedly and cheerfully by those men who a few years ago were savages. A handful of missionaries risked their lives and sacrificed comfort and luxuries of home to teach them Christianity. It can't be estimated in figures the number of lives saved by the tireless efforts of these natives on behalf of the American Army. As a token of my appreciation of the wonderful work these missionaries have done, I am enclosing a money order for one hundred dollars, with the request that it may be used for foreign missionaries work. It is not a gift, rather, I consider it a debt of gratitude."

The Arab-Jewish Dispute

The Arabs complain that the Jews have driven them out of most of Palestine. The fact is that the Jews have paid a good price for every piece of property they have acquired, and the Arabs have been slow to accept the money. Actually the total area bought by Jews is comparatively small. During the last 25 years they have acquired only about 6 percent of Palestine's 28 million dunams; that is about 1,600,000 dunams or 400,000 acres. Most of this land was originally covered with scrubby crops and rocks and considered unsuitable for cultivation. Less than a fourth of it was actually cultivated by Arabs. The Arabs simply have become jealous at seeing how the Jews have succeeded in developing hitherto waste lands and achieving prosperity where they themselves had failed.

A Derelict

Some years ago a derelict American schooner was offered for sale at Liverpool. A man, in passing noticed on the stern the date 1804. He guessed that beneath the mainmast would be a silver dollar of that year; and he bought the old vessel for a trifle. He found the dollar, and sold it for six thousand dollars.

You may soon pass a human derelict on the sea of life. Remember there may be in him or her a prize of heavenly coinage.

Two Wrong Impressions

Cpl. Roger W. Johnson writes from Netherland East Indies to correct two wrong impressions that are prevalent in this country.

(1) "There is no revival sweeping the armed forces—at least, not that I have seen in my two years of service. You can usually find one or two Christians in an outfit to fellowship with, but all the other men live lives of sin and moral degradation; that I'm sure civilians can't realize."

(2) "Once in a great while you run across a chaplain who is preaching the real gospel; but the appalling fact is that most fundamental chaplains preach only sermons designed for Christians. How heartbreaking it is to hear a man who believes the Bible miss opportunity after opportunity to give the plain, simple gospel to an audience of hungry hearts."

A Bible-Reading General

The late Major General Orde Wingate, the brilliant young leader in the Burma jungle fighting, was another Bible-reading general. Officers who served under him tell of hearing his voice on the still morning air as he recited Bible passages in his tent. His orders of the day were frequently couched in Scriptural language and he employed Bible terms as code. Previous to this war he saw service in Palestine, putting down Arab terrorism. During this time he studied the Bible closely, learning many things about Palestine which helped him in his military duties. He became so interested in Palestine that he turned to a serious study of Hebrew language and literature. Eventually he became an ardent Zionist. His last letter to his wife began these words in Hebrew script: "I forgot thee, Jerusalem, may my right hand forget its cunning."

A Methodist Proclamation

Several years ago the leaders of the Methodist church turned their backs on the teachings of John Wesley and began experimenting with the social gospel. Having seen how utterly it has failed, they are apparently ready to go back to the old path, for they have issued the following proclamation.

"We who believe in the God and Father of our Lord, Jesus Christ, are certain that those failures are. We know why science and invention have been and always will be unable to assure peace and progress. We know that there is a moral and spiritual order which secular wisdom cannot discover but which is revealed in Christ. We know that until men and societies come into harmony with that order there will be personal frustration and social disaster. We know that only the redeeming grace of Christ can reconcile man with the moral and spiritual order and enable them to live in creative harmony with it and with each other."

Live-Stock Exports

Seven thousand air hundred and four Canadian dairy cattle have been exported to the United States during 1945 up to the middle of April, compared with 7,171 head in the corresponding period of 1944. The 1945 export of Canadian sheep and lambs to the United States in the first 15 weeks of the year totalled 57,849 head.

Ever Watch a Sap Pail Fill?

● It takes a long time for a sap pail to fill... and a lot of pails of sap to make a gallon of syrup. The term "sap's runnin'" is deceptive. Sap does not run... it comes a drop at a time... and lots of time between drops.

But a lot of drops of sap from a lot of trees make a good crop of syrup.

The fervent prayer of children—the cherished hope of all.

By helping to shorten the war by a day, an hour—or even a minute, you better the chances of thousands of Canadians coming through alive.

That's why there must be no let-up, no relaxation here on the home front. That's why we must purchase Bonds, for Victory Bonds help buy the stuff of which Victory will be made.

Victory Bonds will help to shorten the war. Victory Bonds will help to hasten the return of fathers, husbands, sons, brothers, sweethearts and friends. Powerful things Victory Bonds—to have and to hold. ●

"An army can move only as fast as its supplies." That truth is well established. Engineers and infantry need artillery support. All need ammunition... food... and they need moral support... proof that we, at home, are doing all we can to back them up. Attack wins objectives. Support wins Wars.

And that is where we, on the home front, fit into the war programme. We must furnish support. We must buy more Victory Bonds.

Bear in mind that part of the money which Victory Bonds provide is used to buy foods which Canadian farmers produce and which is needed to feed our fighters and the fighting forces of our allies.

Victory Bonds are a good investment... the safest place that you can put your savings. You should buy them to have money for things you want to do when the war ends. (In case of emergency you can get cash for them.) All the money you invest in Victory Bonds comes back to you eventually. Meantime your bonds earn 3% interest.

Your banker will tell you it's good business to put your savings into Victory Bonds.

Nearly everybody who's thinking of post-war flying these days is thinking of the helicopter. So far several models have flown successfully, though only the Sikorsky model has been manufactured in limited quantities for actual use.

The imagination of the whole world has been caught by the dramatic ability of this type of aircraft to rise, and descend vertically, to deliver doctors where snowstorms have isolated homes from other means of transportation, snatch ship-wrecked victims from the sea, to land or pick up men or supplies in the middle of almost impenetrable bush.

Many a harid, fanciful account of what the helicopter can do has led millions to believe that such machines will be parked in every backyard not long after the war is over. Practical air-minded aeronautical engineers, even those most closely associated with the development of the helicopter, do not share this view. The clear, cold truth is that the helicopter is still many years away from the point where it can be used successfully by the average man.

One noted aeronautical engineer told us the other day that the helicopter is neither an airplane nor an automobile, that it cannot replace either. That it's field is a brand new one. He said the helicopter has reached the same stage of development that the airplane had reached in 1910.

Today's helicopter is expensive. The motor which powers it is already in mass production and has been for a long time. Yet the size of it makes it expensive too. Right now the helicopter is harder to fly than a conventional airplane. It is dangerous machine while within a hundred feet of the ground because it the motor quits it needs at least a hundred foot for the rotors to start the moving on their own and check the rate of descent.

As at present conceived, the helicopter does not compete with the airplane because the airplane is primarily use ful for long distance transportation. Over any reasonably long distance the airplane with the same power is so inherently more efficient than the helicopter, and more inexpensive as fly, that the helicopter does not stand a chance in competition.

Over short distances of one hundred miles or less, the helicopter cannot compete with an automobile. Though it flies faster than the automobile travels, the take-off and landing time and the comparative inconvenience of parking it, together with the matter of expense, make it unlikely that anyone would buy a helicopter to replace an automobile.

This does not mean that some day the helicopter will not be able to hold its own. Perhaps jet propulsion working from the ends of the rotor blades will supply sufficient economy and efficiency to make the machine practical for long distances. But the men who are responsible for solving these problems do not expect a solution of any help to you or for at least 15 or 20 years.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES AND INCOME TAX

THE following announcement will help to clarify the relationship between Family Allowances and Income Tax credits for dependent children. Family Allowances are payable from July 1st, 1945, and the registration of children is now taking place.

The Family Allowances Act was designed to help equalize opportunities for all children, and when the Act was passed, Parliament approved the principle that there should be no duplication of benefits by way of Family Allowances and Income Tax credits for the same child. An amendment to the Income War Tax Act will be made to deal with this duplication. In the meantime, however, the Government proposes, for the last six months of 1945 during which Family Allowances are payable, to remove duplication by adjusting the income tax credits received for children.

It is natural that parents in the low income groups will be expected to receive maximum benefits from Family Allowances. Partial benefits will be received, however, by parents with incomes up to $3,000. The table below shows the effect of the adjustments which the Government has decided to make. For convenience and simplicity the benefits received by each income group are shown as a per cent of the Family Allowances received. The table shows:

TABLE SHOWING EFFECT OF ADJUSTMENT FOR 1945

AMOUNT OF TAXABLE INCOME	Net over $1200	Percent by which taxpayers will benefit from Family Allowances in addition to present income tax credits, for 1945.
Over $1200 but not over 1400	100%
1400 " " 1600	90%
1600 " " 1800	80%
1800 " " 2000	70%
2000 " " 2200	60%
2200 " " 2400	50%
2400 " " 2600	40%
2600 " " 2800	30%
2800 " " 3000	20%
3000 " " "	10%
	0%

NOTE: This table applies to married persons who are the parent of married persons for income tax purposes. For the extremely small number of single persons who are the parent of married persons, special tables can be obtained from the Regional Director of Family Allowances in each provincial capital.

Family Allowances will be paid in full

In all cases, those who apply for and are eligible to receive Family Allowances will receive them in full, month by month. See scale below:

SCALE OF MONTHLY ALLOWANCES FOR THE FIRST FOUR CHILDREN

For each child
Under 6	$5.00
From 6 to 9 (inclusive)	6.00
From 10 to 12 (inclusive)	7.00
From 13 to 15 (inclusive)	8.00

Where there are more than four children under 16 in the family, the monthly allowance for each child after the fourth will be reduced in accordance with the provisions of the Family Allowances Act.

As far as is possible, to take care of the adjustments necessary to avoid duplication of benefits, current income tax deductions at the source will be adjusted to take into account the new situation when Family Allowance payments commence. This will avoid placing an awkward burden on the taxpayers at the end of the year.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES ARE NOT TAXABLE

Special attention is drawn to the fact that the income ranges used in the table above refer to taxable income, and any amounts received as Family Allowances should not therefore be included in calculating income for this purpose because Family Allowances are not taxable.

Family Allowances are also additional to dependents' allowances for servicemen's families and military pensions.

For children registered after July 1st, 1945, Family Allowances will be paid as from the month following the month when registration is made. Family Allowances are not paid retroactively.

ing Act, which enables the owner to pay for his home on monthly instalments as low as $20.

The Faircraft Home is of conventional appearance, but its ingenious construction is such that an entire home can be loaded onto a truck trailer or flat car in a package 30' x 10' x 8' high. On delivery to the home site it can be made ready for occupancy in a few hours.

"And when I say: 'made ready for occupancy in a few hours,'" said Mr. Pamore when making the announcement, "I mean it. The complete bathroom and the kitchen plumbing are installed and tested before the house leaves the factory. All electrical wiring and fixtures are installed and tested, all painting both exterior and interior is completed, and insulation is laid on the floors. This is a 'jerry-built' house. The design is modern and attractive and it may be added to as the family grows. It can be heated and maintained with a minimum of effort and expense."

The only work required on the site of the new home will be the preparation of the foundation, the setting up of the home, and the connection of water, sewage and electrical services. The home as it comes off the truck can be complete with furnace, kitchen stove and refrigerator if the owner desires. It is expected to fill a long-felt need in mining areas and construction projects where housing is needed but where the services of skilled carpenters, plumbers, electricians, etc., are practically unobtainable.

The new-type home differs from the general idea of pre-fabricated houses in that a greater amount than ever before of the building and finishing work is done right in the factory. Faircraft engineers devoted considerable time and study to other problems of fitting it to Canadian conditions, and only after long and exhaustive experiments with the co-operation of the National Research Council was it approved for construction after its capacity for withstanding climatic conditions in Canada had been conclusively proven.

"Since the Faircraft Home is entirely built in the factory," commented Mr. Pamore, "assembly-line technique is applied to all phases of construction. Factory construction, in addition to low cost, permits supervision of every detail which results in a 'high standard of workmanship and quality.'"

For the present the factory-built homes will be available only to jobbers or to real estate agents in group lots. For a time at least, they will not be sold by the Company to individual buyers and will be released only with Government approval.

Conventional materials approved by engineers of the National Housing Administration are used throughout in the construction of the Faircraft Home which has one-story balloon frame construction and contains two bedrooms, living room, kitchen with dinette space, and service entrance and bathroom. A vestibule completes the house.

To meet the shortage of first class lumber, Faircraft engineers have been conducting extensive research with a view to using aluminum as the exterior covering. It is expected that with the cessation of hostilities in Europe, the Government will find it possible to release sufficient aluminum to permit this revolutionary development in the home building industry.

Four $250 research fellowships, tenable at the University of Saskatchewan here, will be awarded annually by the Saskatchewan government to assist graduate students in research work relating to the development of the natural resources of the province and resultant industries.

It's Coming!

Canada's first factory-built homes... low-cost, permanent structures of modern design produced at the rate of six a day using an assembly line technique borrowed from the automotive and aircraft industries will be available within a few months, it was announced today by Faircraft Industries Limited.

H. M. Pamore, President of Faircraft Industries, made the announcement on behalf of the new subsidiary of Fairchild Aircraft Limited. He revealed that construction of a large number of homes had been authorized by C. D. Howe Minister of Reconstruction, after study of the project by Dr. W.C. Park Deputy Minister of Finance, T.W. Nicoll, Director of the Dominion Housing Act and

C.J. Mackenzie President of the National Research Council.

A four-room, single story cottage, 25 ft x 30 ft, and insulated to withstand the rigors of Canadian weather, this new post-war type of home will be built at the aircraft plant at Longueuil, which recently was turning out Curtiss Hot Dives for use by the United States Navy in the Pacific war theatre.

An answer of the Aircraft Industry to Canada's housing shortage, an answer as revolutionary in its implications as the original conception of the first low-cost automobile, is the new Faircraft Home, a single unit of which with standard equipment will sell for $3,200 F.O.B. factory and can be bought under the National Housing
